JURY TRIAL IN SQUIRE'S COURT

Case of State vs. Stephen Border, for Cruelty to Animals Heard by Twelve Men.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDED

Alleged That he Cut Ugly Gash in Tongue of Mule One Inch Deep.

Stephen Border was placed on trial at 9 o'clock this morning before a jury in Squire Kratzer's court on a charge of cruelty to animals and the case was not completed at 3:30 o'clock. Border was charged with cutting a large gash in the tongue of a mule belonging to William A. Mull. The case dragged along slowly and a large number of witnesses were examined. Wallace Morgan represented the State and Albert Stevens the defense.

The defense offered by Border was that the cut on the mule's tongue was caused by a bridle bit and not by a knife as the State contended. Border was the last witness before the attorneys started the argument. Border stated that the cut had been on the animal's tongue for three weeks. Mr. Mull did not discover it until this week. The defendant told the jury that Harry Mull had jerked the mule one day and that its mouth bled. He intimated that the cut was caused by Harry Mull. On finding the cut Border said Mr. Mull became very angry and threatened him.

The State rested its case at noon after five witnesses had testified that the cut on the mule's tongue was made by a sharp instrument and not by a bit. The wound, according to all the men was about an inch and a half deep and two and one-half inches in length. The State showed that the cut was not made by a bit because the wound was farther back in the animal's mouth than where the bit rests.

W. A. Mull, owner of the span of mules and the employer of Stephen Borders, when the crime is alleged to have been committed, was the first witness. He stated that on last Tuesday he found the cut in the mule's tongue. It was a gash, according to Mr. Mull two and one-half inches long, one inch deep and about five inches from the tip of the tongue. Borders according to Mr. Mull, said he cut the tongue because he "could do nothing with the mule." He stated that Border used a knife. Mr. Mull claimed that the cut was made last Saturday.

Dr. Charles E. Morris, a veterinary surgeon, told the jury that he found a deep cut which he believed was caused by a knife. According to him it was a very bad wound and the mule might have to be killed. He did not believe a bit could cause it.

Ernest Mull stated that Border had acknowledged to him that he cut the tongue. The State brought out that the mule was not hard to handle and was not dangerous. He stated that a fourteen-year-old boy had often worked the mule and it had given him no trouble.

Charles Hambrook testified that the wound could not possibly have been caused by pulling on the bit with the lines. He said he was working the mule when the wound was found and that there was no blood coming from the cut showing that the bit was in front of the gash and not resting in it.

Harry Mull testified to having seen the cut and stated that it could not have been caused only by some sharp instrument. Harry Mull was the last witness put on by the State before the noon hour.

The jury was composed of the following men: John Demmer, John Plough, John Walker, John O'Neil, John C. Blackledge, Joe Stiers, Rich Wilson, James Stiers, oe Lakin, E. R. Miller, T. W. Lytle and O. O. Felts.

FLY CROP SMALLER BY AT LEAST 3000

Local Theater Manager's Foresight in Increase in Mortality Rate in Rushville.

METHODS OF CARRYING THEM

The Rushville fly crop is smaller by about three thousand today, thanks to the industry of the Palace theater owners. Yesterday afternoon twenty-five dead flies or ten blow flies were acceptable as an admission fee. The estimated number of dead flies which were passed as legal tender was 2664. One boy managed to corral twenty-five live flies, and he was allowed to enter free. The sum total of blow flies passed to the doorkeeper was twenty-two. And there were a few people who preferred paying the cash to swatting flies.

Many ingenious methods were used in conveying the dead flies to the theater. Pill boxes, bottles, tins and other sorts of receptacles were pressed into service. One girl swatted flies and deposited them in her pocketbook. Rushville dealers report a heavy sale on fly swatters since the announcement of the fly show. Many of the youngsters who paid in dead flies were asked the best weapon for swatting and the majority said they favored a folded newspaper.

COMMENT ON HARRIS TRIAL

Newspaper Versions of the Case Are That Acquittal of Son Was Simple Justice.

PAUL'S FRIENDS CELEBRATE

Whole Case Concealed in Gossip, Writes One Scribe—Grand Jury Was Justified.

The recent Harris case has aroused considerable newspaper comment. It is all favorable to Paul Harris who was acquitted of the charge preferred by the grand jury.

The freeing of Paul was celebrated at his home east of the city last night. A number of his friends called and congratulated him on the verdict of the jury. It was a happy gathering following four weeks of gloom, when the defendant in the case underwent a great mental strain. A number of Paul's friends from this city called on him last night.

Some of the newspaper comments are as follows, the following being from the Connersville News:

"Twelve men, who heard all of the evidence produced under the direction of able attorneys, have declared that Paul Harris is innocent of a terrible crime with which he was charged. They are all good and reputable men. Hundreds of other men have formed and expressed opinions in this famous case, many of them unfavorable to the accused. The basis of their opinions was largely hearsay. Unnumbered rumors that never found mention in the real evidence given under oath were floating about, and made their impression on those who heard them."

"Paul Harris stands purged today of the foul charge. He has suffered in mind and in pocket, if not in reputation because of the accusation. His young and innocent wife and all who are akin to either have suffered. Admittedly the jury was the more competent to weigh the merits of the charges. It is therefore due Paul Harris and those near and dear to him to forget the cloud that fell upon him, and extend to him the full public confidence he enjoyed heretofore."

The Indianapolis Star said this morning:

"Many elements enter into a court trial involving crime which can not be fully conveyed in newspaper reports, no matter how complete and accurate they be—the manner of the prisoner, the feeling of the public toward him growing out of his past career, the character of the witnesses and their evidences of sincerity, etc. While the reading public could not estimate these matters and their probable effect on the jury in the Harris case at Rushville, the testimony as published was nevertheless such as to leave no cause for surprise that the jury rendered a verdict of acquittal."

"For a man to kill his mother is a tremendous crime. That a son, whose relations with his parents had always been friendly and harmonious, and whose own life had shown no disposition to viciousness or violence, should join his mother at the piano in singing hymns and sentimental songs, and end the pastime by shooting her was improbable to say the least. The supposed motive—that of a desire to inherit her property—was insufficient for any other than a desperate and reckless man. It looks as if Mr. Harris had been the victim of unjustified suspicion and irresponsible tongues in being brought to trial at all and his acquittal seems to be simple justice."

W. H. Hodgett, who handled the

POOR SEED CORN PARTLY TO BLAME

Farmers Say Cold Nights and Lack of Moisture Also Combine to Injure Crop.

PROSPECTS FAR FROM GOOD

Some Fields Are Replanted Twice—This Comes on Top of Wheat Failure.

"Corn will not grow on cold nights," said a farmer on the streets today. "The chill of such nights as we have had the last week dwarfs the stalks and gives them a bad start. The dry weather is very damaging, and the prospects for a good corn crop are very poor."

He declared that he believed he was expressing a universal condition among agriculturalists in Rush county. After having their wheat crop spoiled by the weather conditions the farmers are almost disgusted this year.

Farmers are anxiously awaiting a hard beating rain that will soak into the ground. They believe that the conditions will not be relieved until the rain comes. The late spring was enough to discourage them for the remainder of the season, but the lack of wet weather and the low temperature of nights for the last week has only served to augment their troubles.

It is estimated that at least one-third of the corn crop is being or will be replanted. The cold weather and lack of enough moisture is advanced as the cause. There were more acres of ground in Rush county planted in corn this year than has been the case for many years. In some parts of the county corn has been replanted a second time.

The poor quality of the seed corn has combined with the unfavorable weather conditions to make the corn crop backward. Many farmers had to buy seed corn this spring as their own was not fit for use. They have experienced much difficulty in getting the purchased seed to sprout. It is said by many farmers that the majority of the corn was not matured last fall before the winter weather set in and it is for this reason that the grain will not germinate properly this spring.

Farmers each year are paying more attention to the quality of their seed corn. But even at that they meet with conditions which hinder the raising of corn. The Parque university agricultural experiment station officials have been educating farmers for several years in this regard. They have carried on a very aggressive campaign urging care in the selection of seed corn so that farmers each year are coming to realize the value of this advice.

The trouble with the corn crop comes on the heels of the apparent failure of the wheat crop. It was smothered by the ice and snow fields which enveloped the fields of Rush county last winter. For this reason it is believed the wheat crop this year will be one of the smallest in the history of the county.

Evidence of the apparent inadaptability of the crop to the soil in Rush county, has completely disgusted a number of the farmers in the county and a few had made the declaration that they will "never again plant wheat."

Never before, it is asserted, has the prospects for a crop been so hopeless, and never before, growers and dealers declare, has the winter had such a deteriorating effect upon the crop.

"It is without doubt the smallest crop Rush county has had in a number of years," was the statement of a prominent farmer today. "Farmers who have lived in the county for any length of time will all coincide in this opinion. I believe that the acreage will be but five or ten per cent of that of last year. Last year's crop was fairly large. The local wheat market, I believe, will practically come to a standstill—with a big demand and no wheat to fill the orders."

RETIRE AFTER 33 YEARS OF SERVICE

William Bundy Resigns as Member of Carthage School Board and H. E. Henley is Elected.

PRESIDENT MUCH OF THE TIME

After thirty-three years of service as a member of the Carthage school board, William Bundy has retired and given way to a representative of the younger generation. Howard E. Henley has been elected to fill the place made vacant by Mr. Bundy's resignation. Most of the thirty-three years on the board, Mr. Bundy served as president, and was acting in that capacity when he resigned. He was first elected in 1875. The thirty-three years have not been of continuous service, as at two different times he did not serve for periods of three years and one year. Mr. Bundy is well known in Rushville.

During the time of his membership Mr. Bundy has seen many improvements in the Carthage school organization. The building for colored children and the high school building have both been erected in the last thirty-three years. The school was first commissioned in 1881 and Mr. Bundy has devoted his best years to upbuilding and advancing the interests of education. It has been his ambition to see manual training and domestic science courses introduced, but so far the dream has not been realized. He was instrumental in having the sanitary water plant established at the high school building.

ATTENDANCE IS VERY GRATIFYING

Hundred and Eight Delegates Register at County Sunday School Convention Here Today.

PHASES OF WORK DISCUSSED

Adult Bible Class Movement to be Topic of Tonight's Session—Classes to March.

A hundred and eight delegates to the annual convention of the Rush County Sunday School Association had registered this afternoon at three o'clock at the First Presbyterian church, where the sessions were held today. The attendance was very gratifying to the officers.

Sessions were held this morning and this afternoon, and will be concluded tonight with a demonstration by the adult Bible classes of Rushville tonight. Members of such classes from all the Sunday schools are urged to meet at the Methodist church and march to the place of meeting. The speaker tonight will be the Rev. E. W. Thornton of Cincinnati.

The morning session was opened with devotional exercises led by the Ninth Street Baptist church pastor, and was followed with a lecture on "Boy Leadership" by the Rev. W. H. Wylie. The Revs. Paul Stewart of Milroy, and C. N. Wilson of Carthage led the discussion on this topic.

The chief address of the morning was made by George N. Burnie of Indianapolis, State secretary, who talked on "Graded Lessons." The discussion on this feature was led by the Rev. C. M. Yocum and the Rev. Mr. Williams of Carthage. After a number of committees were appointed adjournment was taken for dinner.

The afternoon meeting was opened with devotional exercises led by the Rev. J. H. Miller of the Mays U. P. church, which was preceded by a short musical program. A statistical report of the Sunday schools of the county was given by the Rev. J. B. Meacham of this city. Discussions and plans for increasing the membership in the county Sunday schools was led by the Rev. J. F. Sterrett of Glenwood and the Rev. Ira Irelan of New Salem.

The main address of the afternoon was delivered by the State secretary. He talked on the training of teachers and showed what an important phase of the Sunday school work this really is. The discussions were led and suggestions were made by the Rev. A. W. Jamieson of this city and the Rev. Clyde Black of Milroy.

from the far northeastern part of the city and was to the effect that a mad dog was running at large and the lives of the people were in danger. Joe, of course, never suspected anything and taking his double barrel shot gun started on his hike prepared to kill a dozen mad dogs. On reaching the supposed scene of action Joe found nothing out of the ordinary and no mad dog. The greatest excitement was caused by him.

Joe came back to the engine house and waited. During the afternoon he received telephone calls telling him of riots, mad dogs, murders and drunks, but he had his lesson and never left the fire station on any more grape vines.

LET US SHOW YOU NO-RIM-CUT TIRES

You are undoubtedly convinced that you should use No-Rim-Cut tires. Every motorist has read about No-Rim-Cut tires again and again in the magazines and newspapers. You have read how the 10 per cent oversize and No-Rim-Cut features cut tire bills in two. You have wanted these tires. They are here now. Let us show you.

NO-RIM-CUT FEATURE

No-Rim-Cut tires have six tapes of 126 braided wires in the base, making the base absolutely unstretchable. Nothing can force the tire out of the rim channel. A hooked base is not necessary to hold the No-Rim-Cut tire on. The hooked side of the rings are turned away from the tire. Then the tire, when deflated, rests on the rounded side of the rings. Rim-cutting is impossible.

GOOD YEAR

10 PER CENT OVERSIZE

When a car is overloaded the tires get that extra strain. That hastens breakdowns—means blowouts. No-Rim-Cut tires are made 10 per cent oversize to provide for overload. The construction allows that.

That oversize means 10 per cent more air—10 per cent more carrying capacity. That oversize saves all that overloading costs.

Consider these features and what they save the motorists. No-Rim-Cut tires cost no more than standard clincher tires. Why shouldn't you adopt No-Rim-Cut tires? Come and see them and you will.

IDEAL SILO

Do you know that the cheapest and best silo and the one that has stood the test for fifteen years, and in the community where they are used, they will not use anything else, is the silo that the farmer can get at the lumber yard; buy the lumber and cement and have it constructed the same as he would if he were building a house or barn. It is substantial, strong, air proof, cemented on the inside with no wood exposed on the inside and no hoops or iron bands on outside that require loosening or tightening according to the conditions of the weather.

These silos are being used wherever introduced almost exclusively and there is no patent or commission men to pay, you simply go to the lumber yard, buy your lumber the same as you would to build a house. We will furnish you free of charge a blue print plan and specifications and any carpenter or person handy with tools can put up a silo.

We can furnish you any number of references, including Van Camp Packing Co., who have two very large ones near Martinsville and Mr. Mason, Supt., Polk's Milk Receiving Station at Mooresville, Ind., both of which have large dairy interests and have had experience with all kinds of silos.

If you are contemplating building a silo, it will pay you to investigate the frame and cement plastered silo. We made a special trip to Martinsville and Mooresville for that purpose and saw quite a number, some of which had been in use for several years, and have no hesitance in saying that we believe that they are the best silo and that you will be of the same opinion when you have seen them.

MINISTER AND BRIDE DEEPLY HUMILIATED

Kept Marriage a Secret and Thereby Got Into Trouble.

Atlanta, Ga., June 7.—The couple wouldn't have been arrested at a hotel here on a charge of disorderly conduct and the preacher poet would have saved the cash bond he had to put up to secure their release if the Rev. William Lee Popham, a Baptist missionary of Louisville and "Sweet Singer of the Bluegrass," hadn't tried to keep secret his marriage to Miss Maude Miller Estes, formerly of Louisville.

When the couple arrived at the hotel their conduct made the hotel policeman suspect they were not married. In the morning the officer broke into their room, arrested them and took them to police headquarters. Popham put up cash bond and then denounced the police, saying the girl was his wife. Popham produced evidence showing he and Miss Estes were secretly married recently at McDonough, Ga., the girl having come from Louisville to meet him.

"We decided to keep our marriage a secret," said the preacher, "for business reasons. My wife and I met occasionally since our marriage, and we planned a meeting here. It was an outrage to arrest us. The policeman who arrested us did not give us time to dress."

Popham, who is twenty-seven years old, is widely known in the south as an evangelist, author and poet. His bride, who is about twenty-two, also does literary work.

MURDER MYSTERY

The Police of Lafayette Confronted by a Puzzling Case.

Lafayette, Ind., June 7.—John Costello, aged thirty-five, died at St. Elizabeth hospital from the effects of an injury received Saturday night or early Sunday morning, and there seems to be little doubt that he was murdered. He died without telling how he was injured. Costello was found in an unconscious condition lying in weeds on the bank of the Wabash near the west side pumping station shortly after noon Sunday. Small bruises on his left temple show that he had been struck on the head with a blunt instrument. He never regained consciousness. Concussion of the brain was the cause of death.

Congress Pursues Its Quarry Into Wall Street.

New York, June 7.—A hesitating statement from William Sherer, manager of the New York Clearing House association, that certain phases of the clearing house's functions should be subject to judicial review, was heard by Congressman Pujo, who came here with his committee to hunt the money trust. Among these was the power of expulsion which the clearing house can exercise in case a bank changes hands and the new owners are not satisfactory to the clearing house commission. Samuel Untermyer, who conducted the examination, deduced from figures which Mr. Sherer gave that the annual return to the clearing house on collections of checks in other parts of the country amounts to nearly $50,000,000 a year.

Mr. Untermyer had Mr. Sherer on the stand for three hours. He questioned him on many intimate affairs of the clearing house, asked him again and again for personal opinions, and induced him to give a qualified answer to opinions which Mr. Untermyer expressed. Much of the examination was based on the rules of the clearing house as printed in its constitution.

At the beginning of the session Congressman Pujo handed out a statement to the newspapers, in which he admitted that the committee didn't have power to pursue as full an inquiry as it wanted to make, but that he would seek further power from congress under the banking laws with the expectation of going on to the limit next fall.

School Quitters.

If you could place on one side of a line the boys and girls who graduated from High school courses, and on the other side those who quit with the grammar grades or went only partly through a high school, which do you think would show the larger per cent of successes?

Of course there are plenty of high school graduates who are only measuring tape, and plenty of uneducated men who are bossing railroad systems. But few will doubt that the chances of success are multiplied many times by a good high school course.

case for the Indianapolis News, writes in part as follows:

"The whole case against this young man was conceived in gossip. And right here it should be stated that the loyalty of his young wife brought to the aid of Paul Harris many people who at first were inclined to believe he was guilty.

"The State proposed to show by an automatic record in the telephone exchange that the line on which Harris house is situated, went out of commission five minutes before these people did the telephoning. The State admitted Paul was of good character for peace and quietude, there were no bullet wounds and no jewelry was found. It was shown that Paul owed just $30 and the man he owed it to was not put on the stand because he was ready to swear that he did not ask Paul for the money and was not demanding payment. He regarded the account as good.

"That the grand jury was justified in bringing the indictment is admitted by every one familiar with the case, because if one-half that was told the grand jury proved to be true Paul Harris should have been hanged. But much of the testimony that the grand jurors heard never got into the case, and the next grand jury might teach some of the busy-bodies in the neighborhood the meaning of perjury."

"The following is good enough for the comical side of the 'Docket,' and is an exact copy of the judgment docket of a justice of the peace at Traer, Iowa.

The defendant is accused of raising hell. I issue a warrant for his arrest, and when he was brought before me I distinctly read the information to him. To which the defendant pleaded "Not guilty."

With the assistance of the town marshal I have gone through the defendant's pockets and found $3.14, which I appropriated for costs and discharged him.

TO OUR TRADE.

The general tendency throughout all branches of trade is to have a fixed established standard valuation upon various productions. The middleman offers the public a bona-fide service in purchasing goods of the manufacturer at the lowest possible prices and delivering them to the ultimate consumer at an advance which is in direct proportion to the value of the service rendered. The dealer's profit is a legitimate and necessary one; it must be borne by all people, and the middleman is justly entitled to the same.

We, herewith, quote a reasonable, just and proper set of prices, at which the products of the Jesse French & Sons Piano Factory should be sold. The dealer's profit at these prices is not in any way exorbitant. At the same time fair to the dealer as well as to the customer, and we STRONGLY URGE that all Krell-French Dealers use these prices with their trade, adding to them the freight to the point of delivery.

Other numbers worthy of mention were a solo by Miss Allie Gordon and a song by the Misses May and Fay, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Theobald. The parlor, library and dining room were prettily decorated with streamers of red, white and blue, entwined and caught up with American flags. Bouquets of peonies and roses, placed promiscuously about, completed the decorations. Following the program the hostess served a dainty two-course luncheon. American flags were given as souvenirs.

GYPSY BAND HELD AT BAY

Same Gang of Thieving Fortune Tellers That Visited Here is Rounded up in Ohio.

HEROINE, 18-YEAR-OLD GIRL

She Prevents Looting of Store, Calls Police And Has Them Arrested.

A band of gypsies was caught in the act of wholesale robbery at Lakewood, a Cleveland Ohio, suburb, yesterday, posses many of the characteristics of the band which passed through this city recently and pilfered the pocketbook of a local physician. A Cleveland special says:

A band of gypsies that today raided the dry goods store of J. S. Freidel encountered stiff opposition in Martha Webe, 18 years old, a clerk, whom they found alone in the place. Martha gave them battle, prevented a wholesale looting of the store, then called the Lakewood police and had them all arrested.

Apparently the nomads had timed their entrance. They came just after the proprietor had gone out for lunch. The invaders made no pretense at concealing their purpose. They scattered over the store, picking up goods here and there, then walked behind the counters and opened cases. They carried the goods outside and loaded them into their wagons.

Miss Webe finally, at the point of a revolver, forced the intruders out of the store, and called the police. At the station it was discovered there were not enough cells in which to lock the tribe, nor did the policemen know what to do with the horses and wagons. Finally they were hustled over to a vacant lot and forced to remain there while the Lakewood cops camped in a circle about them. The mayor finally released the prisoners on $200 bond for a hearing Friday.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR JUNE 9
HEARING AND DOING.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 6:39-49.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Be ye doers of the Word, and not hearers only, deluding your own selves."—James 1:22.

Last week we had from the lips of Jesus three illustrations of that false righteousness which he will not countenance in his new kingdom. Today's lesson is the last of the present series, which has to do with the fundamental teachings expressed by Jesus in his manifesto and it is emphasized by the Golden Text taken from James' epistle.

Jesus begins with a short parable, which, though not recorded by Matthew as being used in this same connection is here used to introduce and to explain what was said about the mote and the beam. Parenthetically Jesus informs us that we are not above our Master. We must teach principally in the same manner he taught, e. g., by our lives. He has been setting forth the manner of life to be followed by his disciples. He is the incarnate truth, and in that fact lay his power and success as a teacher, so as we incarnate his life, live his life before the world, we shall most successfully teach. His sight was unimpaired, hence his ability and power. Jesus, however, guards against any self-assumed righteousness upon the part of his followers by telling us that "everyone," that is every disciple, "when he is perfected shall be as his master." (v. 40.) No leader or teacher has ever made any great and lasting contribution or impression upon history except as he has in a measure emulated the life of Jesus or followed the principles he taught the world.

Beam and Mote.

It is as we are being perfected, follow on after perfectness in Christ Jesus, that we are effectually able to see for ourselves and to lead others. Jesus by means of this teaching about the beam and the mote shows us how impossible it is for a man, who is himself disobedient to the truth to be able to do anything that will help others who are in a like state of disobedience. He plainly implies that it is not only impossible but actually a sin for one who has a beam, a "splinter" in his eye to attempt to remove the mote—a light speck of dust—from the eye of another. The sin of attempting to teach that which we ourselves do not obey is greater than the sin of him who is not obedient but makes no attempt to teach the truth and called forth the emphatic "thou hypocrite" of Jesus. How many fathers desire their sons to walk in the path of truth and yet they make no effort to remove the beam from their own eyes—hypocrites—is it to be wondered at that they both fall into the ditch?

Jesus emphasizes all of this by use of the figure of fruit-bearing. The preposterousness of our looking for figs upon thorn bushes, or to look for grapes upon a bramble bush is patent to all. We know that corruption is not so much a matter of infection as it has to do with inward purity. If the tree of life is pure it will yield perfect fruit, for life always reproduces its own type, in the same manner the influence a man exerts is the influence of what he is in his own life.

In verse 46 Jesus adds further light upon this matter of hypocrisy. He has already told us we are to build upon his words, which were the truth. Now he shows us that to call him "Lord, Lord" with lips only, and not because of a heart conviction, even though it be known and heard of all men, will not avail. This sort of crying aloud shall be tested by him who knows the thoughts and the intents of the heart and it, too, shall receive the just reward of all hypocrisy. To cry "Lord, Lord," to judge others by different standards, from those by

OF THE WHITES

This Is the Exhortation of Cuban Blacks.

POLICE FIND A MANIFESTO

This Was Dated Back in January and Urges Negroes Everywhere on the Island to Arm Themselves For the Purpose of Doing Away With Their White Neighbors—Havana Seriously Threatened by the Blacks.

Havana, June 7.—The mayors are everywhere organizing volunteers, and while there is nothing definite, rumors are rife that small parties of armed negroes are appearing on all sides in the vicinity of Havana. Many negroes are arriving in Havana every hour. In the house of one Bartlette the police found a manifesto dated Jan. 15, addressed to the negroes and exhorting them to exterminate the whites. The negroes, according to the manifesto, were the only Cubans who had sacrificed themselves for Cuban independence.

The government continues to organize a local guard of defense of Havana, arming all reputable whites who volunteer. These volunteers include many Americans. The government is enlisting coast artillerymen to fill up vacancies in the ranks. Volunteers are being paid $1.50 a day and equipped.

The rebel general Eugenio Lacosta has made a demand that the planters near Yateras furnish him with $6,000 cash and a quantity of arms and ammunition, or in lieu of the latter pay him another $6,000. If the demands are not complied with he says he will burn and massacre. Reports of assaults on women by the negroes in Santiago continue.

President Gomez has instructed General Montaguado, the commander-in-chief of the Cuban forces, to withdraw his men wherever the American marines undertake to protect property, and to gather up the arms issued to citizens. At the same time they are to draw up a declaration that the properties are being adequately protected by the Americans, that such protection was unsolicited, and that in consequence of the substitution of Americans for Cubans, the Cuban republic repudiates all responsibility for any damage which may occur. Martial law prevails in Santiago.

Consul Gibson gave a copy of this order from Secretary of State Knox to the minister of war: "I have the honor to inform you that the president has decided to send four warships to the port of Oriente and disembark marines to protect the Americans, but without attacking the rebels. The president hopes the Cuban government will quickly end the revolt, otherwise the United States, in accordance with the treaty, will be obliged to push an active campaign to crush the rebellion."

Her Heart Belonged to Another and Wedding Was Called Off.

Detroit, Mich., June 7.—Detroit's four hundred were given a severe shock when invitations to the wedding of Miss Carol Newberry, daughter of T. H. Newberry, former secretary of the navy, and Captain W. H. Alleyne of the Queen's Own regiment, stationed at the Bermudas, were recalled by the parents of the bride-to-be. The date for the wedding had been set for June 15.

Captain Alleyne, who had been in Detroit since Tuesday as the guest of the Newberrys at the swell Country club, left quietly for New York. More than 200 invitations had been issued for the wedding.

It is said by intimate friends of Miss Newberry that Captain Alleyne released her from the engagement when he ascertained that her heart belonged to another. The name of Frank Brooks, to whom Miss Newberry was formerly engaged, was mentioned in this connection.

"A Sound of Revelry by Night."

London, June 7.—The "ball of one hundred years ago," a reproduction of that given by the Duchess of Richmond at Brussels on the eve of Waterloo, was a great success at Albert Hall last night. Four thousand persons were present, including many royal personages. Many titled Americans were prominent among the throng.

ELECTRIC INCUBATOR IS BIG

Machine Built for New Orleans Poultry Raiser Has Capacity of 6,000 Eggs—How Worked.

One of the largest electric incubators in use anywhere in the world was built for a poultry raiser in New Orleans. It is 40 feet long by 5 feet wide, and contains 40 compartments, each having a capacity of 150 eggs, says the Popular Mechanics. Each compartment can be separately controlled, so that any one, or all of the compartments, can be operated, according to the number of eggs to be hatched. The controlling thermostats used do not completely break the heater circuit, but introduce the comparatively high resistance of a small electric lamp when open, thus avoiding sparking at the contacts.

Incubator of 6,000 Capacity.

DOULTRY NOTES

Nothing like a few warm days to coax the hens to lay.

Don't let your breeders get too fat or you will be sorry for it.

Young ducks should always have plenty of water and shade and grit.

Green cut bone and meat foods are the worms and bugs in the winter ration.

No condition powder on the market is as good as wholesome food and plenty of exercise.

Turkey gobblers should be mated with the hens as early as possible, certainly by the first of April.

The best layers are those fowls that have been bred particularly with a view to increased egg production.

Inbreeding soon lowers the vitality of a flock. That is why we should get new males or settings of eggs every year.

There is genuine satisfaction in owning thoroughbred stock and they cost no more to feed. Go in for the best.

Have you ever noticed the hens following the plow and did you observe how fast the grubs disappeared? This is good for the hens and the land also. Encourage them.

A bone cutter will surely pay for itself. Green cut bone supplies the hen with ability to produce eggs, nourishes her feathers and keeps her in general good health.

OLIVER CULTIVATORS

Absolute and distinct advantages over other implements are what count and the following are to be found in the Oliver Cultivator.

The work is done perfectly, because of the parallel gangs, always held a uniform distance apart, always maintaining full depth and never shirking when going through hard ground.

This good work is done with the greatest ease by the operator, because of the power lift for the gangs, provided by draft of team, and the pivotal scab bar guide which shifts the gangs, besides pivoting the pole to guide the machine. The Oliver is absolutely the easiest to guide of any cultivator invented.

It is easy on the team, because of perfect draft lines—therefore no neck weight or neck draft. Light to draw, because of short frame, and otherwise novel construction.

Automatic Balance Frame. The movement of one lever assisted by the team raises and lowers both gangs, and at the same time balances the frame. For narrow rows, the wheels can be set 32 inches between the tires and still give ample room for guiding where planting is done badly out of check.

As a hard ground cultivator it has no equal. There are no springs or high hitch to draw the shovels out of the ground, which are, therefore, always hungry for their work.

It is a profitable cultivator for the farmer, as it does not wear out easily, never breaks, saves time and manual labor, and does faster and better work than is possible with any other.

CHANGE OF LOCAL ROUTE RUMORED

Brookville Hears News That I. & C.
Proposed Route May Not be Through Harrison, O.

C. L. HENRY IN THAT VICINITY

Reasons Advanced Are That Cost of Construction and Distance
Would Be Saved.

A rumor is current in Brookville that the proposed I. &amp; C. extension route from this city to Cincinnati by way of Brookville may be changed. No I. &amp; C. officials were at the general offices here today and it could not be verified. The Brookville American says:

It is leaking out from those in close touch with the I. &amp; C. Traction movement, that a change of route from Brookville to Cincinnati is under consideration. Instead of following the valley from Brookville to Harrison, the road by the cross country route would leave the valley just south of Brookville and take a straight line by Westwood, Ohio, into Cincinnati.

President Chas. L. Henry of the I. &amp; C. Traction Co., and his chief engineer went over part of the new route proposed from Brookville to Cincinnati, Wednesday afternoon. The line leaves the present survey near the Little Cedar Baptist church and runs south of Palestine in the direction of Sharptown.

The reasons for the change in the main, would be to save distance and cost of construction. The nature of the country between Brookville and Harrison makes the cost of constructing a road through it very high and from reports along the present survey, the right-of-way cannot be secured without great expense.

This cross country line has been advocated for a long time. It would be a shorter line than by way of the valley, it would pass through territory having no railroad facilities and the people of the territory would jump at the chance of getting the road.

This change in the line would be a serious blow to Cedar Grove, New Trenton, Harrison and the whole lower valley as most of the business east of the river would be handled over the Traction line and lost to the lower river towns.

While the matter is being seriously considered, it is probable that nothing definite will be done until the engineers and right-of-way men make their reports. All the traction company has asked for is free right-of-way. It is up to the people along the proposed route to get busy and not depend upon one or two places to do all the hustling.

They must mean business or they would not go to the trouble of going over the route. The valley will have to get busy if it wants to keep the road.

FOR A SANE FOURTH.

The Carthage town council at its meeting this week unanimously decided to ask the merchants of the town not to sell fireworks before the Fourth of July. Such a movement as this has been started in several cities and towns in an effort to do away with the promiscuous shooting of fire works before the one day set aside for the celebration. In previous years it has met with success in many places.

MAY BE HEIR TO LARGE ESTATE

Perry Enyeart of Lewisville May Come Into Share of Property
Valued at $300,000,000.

HE IS ON THE ANXIOUS SEAT

Gets Message to Come to Certain
Town But is Unable to Locate It.

Perry Enyeart of Lewisville, when he leaves for an eastern city to claim his share of a $300,000,000 estate, does not believe he will be on any "grapevine" trail with a "dead end." He says the news that he is a real, live heir to even a portion of such an amount of money is very authentic, and all he has to do is to get it. Here's what the Lewisville Traveler says about his good fortune:

Perry Enyeart says he will not have to railroad any more if he gets only a small amount of what a letter stated would fall to his lot from a vast estate left by a relative in New York.

The estate is valued at $300,000,000 and consists of the most valuable real estate lying in the heart of New York City, practically all of the land being covered with magnificent office buildings.

Several days ago Mr. Enyeart received a letter from a Mrs. Racer, of Ohio, notifying him to come to Huntington, Pa., where the heirs were to meet on a certain day and formulate plans for the division of the property. After a fruitless search to locate the above named town he has been anxiously awaiting the arrival of another message.

Mrs. Racer is a cousin of Mr. Enyeart and she has worked diligently searching for all the heirs of Wm. Enyeart, who owned the vast holdings and who leased it for a period of 100 years, the lease expiring only last New Year's day. The letter also stated that a New York lawyer had been retained and was busy collecting money due the estate and disposing of same, and that his fee would be $100,000,000 for services.

Mr. Enyeart was the last heir of the estate to be located and some time was required to locate him. He is now anxiously awaiting another message, when he will leave at once to get his share of the estate.
